All Field trips, activities, and playgroups are open to the public. Parents are responsible for the safety and well-being of their children during any events you attend.
Winter Safety Tips for Kids

How to dress your kids (not like little adults) Parents with babies and younger kids should:

1. Adjust winter clothes for children's needs. Dress babies and young children in one more layer of clothing than an adult would wear in the same conditions. Remember warm boots, gloves or mittens, and a hat, which make a big difference in keeping young children comfortable. Remove drawstrings from clothing which may get caught on tree branches or play equipment (replace with velco).

2. Keep exposure to the cold at a minimum. Babies and young children don't have the same tolerance for cold that adults do. It's important to limit time outside.

3. When riding in car seats. Babies and children should wear thin, snug layers rather than thick, bulky coats or snowsuits. Even through the bus may be warm, if children are riding on the school bus make sure they are adequately dressed for cold weather.

4. Safe Sleep. Blankets, quilts, pillows, bumpers, sheepskins and other loose bedding should be kept out of an infant's sleeping environment. It is better to use sleep clothing like one-piece sleepers or wearable blankets as preferred.

Simple ways to avoid winter colds It's a common myth that cold weather causes colds, but it does not. Colds are caused mainly by viruses that we are more commonly exposed to in the winter. Viruses are spread even more easily when children are in school and in close contact with each other, typically through respiratory droplets in the air and on hands. Prevent colds and the flu by getting kids to:

5. Use soap and water. Washing their hands frequently will reduce the spread of germs.

6. Cover their mouth. Sneezing or coughing into the bend of their elbows also helps prevent spreading germs.

7. Get immunized. Keep vaccinations current, including the flu shot (for children 6 months and older).

Other Winter Health Tips

8. Use sunscreen. Children and adults can still get sunburn in the winter. Sun can reflect off the snow, so apply sunscreen.

9. Winter nosebleeds. If your child suffers from winter nosebleeds, try using a cold air humidifier in the child's room at night. If bleeding severe or recurrent, consult your pediatrician.

10. Install alarms. More household fires happen during the winter so make sure you have functioning smoke and carbon monoxide alarms in your home.

Family Fun in January!

Too cold to go outside and play? Here are some ideas you can do indoors...

Marshmallow Snowman

What You Need:
- Marshmallows
- Tic Tacs (orange and other colors)
- Melted chocolate
- Pretzels
- Mini M & M’s
- Mini chocolate chips
- Licorice or sour patch strips

Instructions:
Using two marshmallows take the melted chocolate and stick them together then take a 3rd marshmallow and do the same. Now take two pretzel sticks and insert them into the middle marshmallow to act as the snowman’s arms. Using three Tic Tacs, poke them into the snowman’s body to act as his buttons. Using the melted chocolate “glue” the eyes and mouth on. Press the orange Tic Tac into the top marshmallow for his carrot nose. Now you can add the scarf and enjoy!

Ooey, Gooey Glittery Snow Slime

What You’ll Need:
- 2 cups white school glue
- Glitter (iridescent works best)
- Warm water
- 3/4 tsp. borax
- Peppermint extract (optional)

Directions:
Mix 2 cups white school glue with 1 1/2 cups warm water. Add glitter (as much or little as you’d like) and a few drops of peppermint extract (optional) to the mixture. In a separate bowl combine 3/4 tsp. of borax with 1 1/3 cups warm water. Combine ingredients from both bowls and mix well then let your child stretch and pull the snow slime into all sorts of fun shapes and designs!

- Scoop some snow into a plastic bin and bring the snow inside to try these ideas!
- Bring out the Mr. Potato Head and let them use the pieces to make a snowman potato head.
- Get out the little people, cars and construction equipment and add them to the snow bin.
- Have a diamond dig by hiding gems and jewels in the snow for your child to find.
- Bring out the water color paints and let them paint the snow or use a small spray bottle with colored water to spray on color.
- Build a tent or fort out of blankets and sheets.
- Have an indoor snowball fight (use rolled socks, Styrofoam balls, or cotton balls).
- Play “FREEZE”...play some music to dance and move to; when the music stops everyone freezes.
- Make an obstacle course out of toys, cushions, pillows, etc.
- Bring out some empty boxes and have fun building or creating something out of them.
- Pretend to ice skate with wax paper skates or your socks, ski using cardboard tubes, or pull your child on a sled indoors.
- Make fake snow using 2 cups of baking soda and 1/2 a cup of conditioner. This snow is moldable and smells nice too. Add items to build a snow man.
January Book Picks...

"The snow is coming," announces owl one day, "I know snow." With the arrival of snow and winter, Bear announces that it is time to go into hibernation, Rabbit tells her bunnies that their brown fur will soon turn white, and the geese fly south in search of warmer weather.

A close-up of tree trunks leads to the question "What are these?" A page turn reveals: trees! Look to the right—what are those? Shadows of crows! Follow the clues on each spread until the snow starts to melt and spring is revealed.

This simple and adorable book about snow supports counting skills up to five, all while showing kids the delightful nature of snow.

Does snow make a sound? Follow along as a little girl uses her five senses to discover the special sound of snow.

January Songs and Fingerplays...

10 Little Snowflakes
Tune: 10 Little Indians

One little, two little, three little snowflakes,
Four little, five little, six little snowflakes,
Seven little, eight little, nine little snowflakes
Ten little snowflakes on my tongue! (stick out tongue)

Continue to sing the first three lines and change the last line to...

Ten little snowflakes on my hat! (pat head)
Ten little snowflakes on my mittens! (wiggle fingers)
Ten little snowflakes on my boots! (stomp feet)
Join us on Friday mornings from 10-11:30AM at Eastgate Early Childhood and Family Center to explore and play. In January and February we will enjoy a “Winter Fantasy Land” theme. Playgroups are intended for children birth to age 5 years old and their siblings. Come explore our themes with us. There will be many activities that will tempt you and your child to discover and play together. You are welcome to bring family and friends along to join you! Here is a sneak peek at the January and February activities we have planned...
